SAG Learning Sessions are entirely designed, organized and executed to contribute towards an individual's growth, development, increase awareness on Mental Health and provide general information only.

The information available on and is presented in summary form as a supplement to, and NOT a substitute for, the knowledge, skill, and judgment of qualified psychiatrists, psychologists, physicians and health care professionals. The information that has been provided is obtained from sources believed to be accurate and reliable. However, SAG learning Sessions makes no warranty as to the accuracy, reliability or completeness of this information. Should you have any health, medical or disability questions or concerns, please consult a physician or other health care professional. Information accessed on or through SAG learning Sessions does not cover all disabilities, diseases, illnesses and physical conditions or their management or treatment.

If anyone has any severe issues pertaining to their mental health, please consult a clinical psychologist or psychotherapist or any other professional healthcare provider with immediate effect. We do not hold any responsibility of any action taken by any participant in any regard. SAG learning Sessions does not recommend or endorse any clinicians, counselors, psychiatrists, social workers, physicians, products, procedures, opinions, or other information that may be mentioned in the sessions. Reliance on any information provided by SAG, SAG employees, others appearing on the website at the invitation of SAG, or other visitors present in the session is solely at your own risk.

Thank You!
